Tickets Going Fast As January 5, Date For Community Dinner In Honor Of Wermuth Draws Near

Lieutenant Earl Wermuth, for over 30 years a Carmel policeman, will be honored with a dinner at Highlands Inn on January 5 at 7:30 o'clock. Lieutenant Wermuth officially retires from the Carmel police force on Saturday. However, because of an accumulation of holiday and vacation time, he has not been on patrol this month.

Earl is a Carmel boy. He was born in Oakland 54 years ago but came to Carmel with his parents at the age of six months.

The Carmel of his childhood was far different from the city he patrolled for the last time in November. Earl's father drove the horse stage between Monterey and Carmel for Gool's livery stable which stood at the corner of Ocean Avenue and San Carlos. The site is now occupied by a gas station.

As a boy, Earl trod plank sidewalks on Ocean Avenue and watched the Hitchcock boys plant and water the pines in the center dividing strip. Dust or mud, depending on the season, was a hazard of the dirt roadway. Forest paths wandered off the main street to cottages without gas, electricity or sewers. The post office was a small rack of boxes in Slevin's store, now Carmel Bakery. There was no library. He attended Sunset School when there were only two teachers in the Carmel school system. Horses tied to hitching

Around a corner came a large sheet of white, corrugated fiberglass and immediately behind it Dr. Rolf Bolin wearing zoris, gardening slacks, a plaid sport shirt and a wide smile.

He set the glass panel on a pile of similar panels, beside a skeleton building about the size of a garage for one of those midget cars.

Failure Of State To Inspect Costs School $2,000

A plaguing problem of boilers in Carmel district schools that do not conform to requirements of the State Division of Industrial Safety was solved at a meeting yesterday. As a result, the additional controls demanded by the State division will be installed at a cost of a little over $2,000.

Two engineers from the State Department of Industrial Safety met with William Cranston of Elston and Cranston, school architectural firm; Daniel Aronoff, consulting mechanical engineer for Elston and Cranston; Assistant Superintendent of Schools Wayne Greenfield; Gene Viljoen, supervisor of buildings and grounds for the Carmel Unified School District; and Charles Seaver, contractor for much of the district's construction.

The boilers are used for heating classrooms in all the schools, also the pool and gymnasium at the High School. The State Division of Industrial Safety informed the school district a little over a year ago that the boilers did not conform to their requirements and that added controls must be installed. Some of this work has already been completed.

The problem arose from lack of communication between State departments, according to Carmel district representatives. All school plans always were submitted, as required by law, to the State Division of Architecture. A representative of the State Fire Marshal approved the boilers. Following an inspection last year by the State Division of Industrial Safety, the boilers were declared by this agency as not conforming to their demands. The original plans were not submitted to this division and State law does not require that this submission be included in

Planners OK Guest House Over Dissent

Yesterday, in an off day meeting because of the holidays, the Monterey County Planning Commission granted a use permit for a guest house to Zone King on her property in Mesa Place, Hatton Fields, in Carmel Unincorporated.

Every property owner in the neighborhood had written letters asking that the permit be denied. Two spoke at the hearing.

Mrs. Donald D. Cox said the site plans place the guest house six feet from her property line. "All we'll see from our living room, dining room and kitchen will be two blank walls."

Robert Townsend, another immediate neighbor, told the commissioners that there are six or eight houses on the street with sites averaging 1800 square feet. Mrs. King's property is 822 square feet, "a below average site. Another small house on the lot is not appropriate."

"At first she was going to add to her home," he said. "This would have been less irritating to us."

He asked the commission what assurance they had that the guest house wouldn't be used as a rental unit. Mrs. King already has roomers in her home, he pointed out.

Mrs. King interposed: "I take in teachers so I won't be alone." The county permits two roomers to a home. She said she wanted the guest house rather than additional rooms because, "I have guests from all over the world. I want them to be independent of me, free of my house."

Robert Slimmon, planning staff member, said that he knew of no case of guest houses being used for rental units. "If they were, we would hear about it and put a stop to it."

After the meeting he was asked how the county managed to enforce the limit on number of paying guests regulation. Carmel has had its enforcement troubles.

"We'd just turn it over to the district attorney," Slimmon said

Five Items On Council Tour Tuesday Afternoon

Five items are on the agenda of the city council tree tour meeting that leaves city hall at 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The council is asked to set curb grades on the east side of Casanova Street between Thirteenth and Twelfth Avenues to correct a drainage problem.

Norman Pollard will request the council for a driveway variance on Junipero southwest of Tenth to rectify an 18 inch error in grade.

Councilmen will also consider removal of one dangerous pine and two oaks in a clump on the west side of Junipero between Ocean and Seventh.

Another driveway variance will be considered by councilmen on San Carlos Street, two houses above Vista at the request of Mrs. Fred Tillotson.

A request to remove an old acacia tree on the south side of Sixth between Dolores and San Carlos in order to construct new sidewalk completes the agenda.

Happy New Year to everyone, especially to retiring Police Lieutenant Earl Wermuth who is our favorite cop.

And Happy New Year to Chief of Police Clyde Klaumann and the rest of the police force. May all their "prowlers" be raccoons inspecting garbage cans.

Happy New Year to City Clerk Larry Rose, whose research on city self-insurance will save the city a tidy sum, which means Happy New Year to all of us. And to Art Plaxton, Lucille Ray and Eleanor Shepherd who share Larry's labors and soothe excited citizens who want to know what does this mean and what do I do about it? May their 4:00 o'clock tea be piping hot and free from interruptions.

Planners To Hold Field Trip Jan. 4 In Carmel Highlands

The Monterey County Planning Commission will hold a field trip January 4, 2:00 o'clock to look at the site in Carmel Highlands where Anthony Allamprese, proposed to put in a sewage treatment plant, at Fern Canyon Road and Corona Drive, opposite the fire station.

They will also look over the 70 acres in Fern Canyon for which Allamprese has filed subdivision plans. Members of the Highlands advisory committee asked that the treatment works application be continued until the controversial subdivision plans come up for final hearing.

Commissioners, who come from various parts of the county will meet at the junction of Carmel Valley Road and Highway 1 and proceed on their field trip.

SPORTS REVIEW

The year 1960 started out just right on the West Coast as the University of Washington upset favored Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl and allowed western grid filberts to again hold up their heads and challenge the best of the Big Ten in the 1961 Rose Bowl. Jim Owens' Huskies liked the glory of the Rose Bowl win so much they will make a return engagement to test the mettle of the big University of Minnesota squad which earned the top rating for all colleges during the past season. The Gophers are favored to clip the Huskies, but this corner likes the chances of the Purple & Gold gang out of Seattle and figures the big Minnesota eleven may have trouble keeping up with the speed of the nimble Huskies. . . . In basketball, Coach Pete Newell's University of California Bears dominated the action on the Pacific Coast, but the defense-minded Bears couldn't hold off the speedy Ohio State Buckeyes in the NCAA playoffs. Monterey Peninsula College had its very best team in the history of the Lobo school and helped earn its coach a chance at big time coaching. Pete Peletta, whose pattern of basketball is very similar to that employed by California's Pete Newell, outscrambled a big field for the job at the University of San Francisco and left the destiny of Lobo basketball fortunes in the hands of Gustine High's

Larry Cummins. Carmel High School's varsity hoop squad repeated as champions of the CCAL B-division but found the going too tough in its own invitational tournament and in the PAL Tournament at Stanford University. Monterey High won the CCAL A-division title and entered the Tournament of Champions at Berkeley but bowed out in the consolation round. . . . Bing Crosby's Pro-Am Invitational Golf Tournament was as colorful as ever and the weather just as unpredictable. San Francisco's Ken Venturi won the Crosby Clambake in convincing fashion and pleased his large rooting section from the Bay Area. Big winners in the Crosby were the numerous charities which benefit from the fund-laden golf festival. As in past years rumors were rampant that Bing would move his tournament to Southern California to escape the invigorating Monterey Peninsula weather, but at the awards banquet Bing quieted the rumors and promised to do business at the same old stand in 1961. Dates for the '61 Crosby are January 19-22 at Cypress Point, Monterey Peninsula Country Club, and Pebble Beach with the usual galaxy of golfing greats, movie stars, top figures in the sports world, plus an array of business tycoons and the world's top amateur golfers. . . . The 1960 Olympic Games at Rome was frustrating to the confident United States fans who are used to seeing their heroes win with something to spare. Particularly trying were the sad experiences of San Jose's Ray Norton who couldn't win as a favorite in the sprints and fouled out the entire quartet in the sprint relay. John Thomas, the peer of all high-jumpers, was rudely upset by the Russian duo and that was just about the pattern of the 1960 Olympics. . . . United States regained one of its most prized sports possessions when Floyd Patterson turned the tables on Ingemar Johansson to again wear the heavy-weight boxing crown. Old Archie Moore, the most colorful of all boxers, did more talking than fighting and was all but stripped of his light-heavyweight title. . . . The mighty New York Yankees won the American League pennant but bowed to the upstart Pittsburgh Bucs in the World Series and lost the venerable Casey Stengel as their manager when the top brass invited Casey to retire following the World Series. More major league baseball moved to the Pacific Coast with Los Angeles getting an American League franchise. Baseball in Carmel centered around the highly successful Little League which has been growing with leaps and bounds. Art Carpenter's Pilot Market gang won all the blue chips in the league playoff as the grocers clipped Jack Cate's Wilder & Jones squad. Pony League got a start in Carmel on an experimental basis and the (Continued on Page Three)

Carmel Valley Tops $5,000 Chest Quota By Ten Percent

Carmel Valley Community Chest collections are in excess of the area's quota by ten percent. Carmel has almost enough returns in to meet its quota. Other areas have sent in returns, in many instances above last year's but still below their 1960-61 quotas.

As 1960 comes to a close, the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest reports as of today it has collected $150,301.24 (94% of the $160,000 goal). This is an increase of $12,238.83 (9%) over the amount collected as of December 31, last year.

Carmel has collected 97.5% of its $32,000 quota and Carmel Valley is 10% over its $5,000 quota. Carmel Highlands has exceeded last year's figures by $120, but is still 10% below its $2,000 quota. Monterey has collected $30,526, and has only 9% to go to equal its quota of $33,000.

New Monterey has been slow in coming in, but area chairman, Edward Garner reports that the $1400 needed to equal last year's figures will be in this week.

Loren Smith, co-chairman in the Seaside business area, reports that there are still several kits outstanding and that the remaining 14% needed to reach the Seaside quota will be in by January 15.

Mrs. V. A. Vaden, chairman of Pacific Grove residential area, has collected 17% more than was collected last year, and W. A. Chelew, chairman of the business area, reported that several kits are still outstanding, and that he hopes to better last year's figures.

In the Country Club area, Admiral Spruance, Colonel Donnegan, and W. Lincoln Noelle have collected 27% more for 1961 than was collected for 1960.

Rollo H. Payne, President of the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest, stated that with only $9,000 to go, he felt sure the Chest would reach its goal, but it would need the support of everyone in every community. The services are needed, and the $160,000 is the minimum amount needed to operate the 20 Chest Agencies.

Sports ...

good reception has assured Carmel's 13-14 year olds of an organized Pony League in 1961. Paul Artellan and Coach Don Sands with an able assist from Gene Ricketts kept softball alive in Carmel and gave the Village two entries in the Pacific Grove Rec League. Monterey Peninsula's favorite athlete, Ky Miyamoto, ex-Pine Cone pitching great, continued to amaze Carmel sport fans with his exploits on the softball diamond and on the basketball court. Ky pitched for Ricketts' Carmel Builders team and is now swishing them in for the Schulken basketball team in the Monterey Rec League. New blood took charge of the professional football world as Philadelphia and Green Bay clashed for the pro title. With ex-Ram Dutch Van Brocklin at the controls and ex-49er Coach Buck Shaw calling the shots, the Eagles earned a methodical victory over the rags-to-riches Packers. Both Van Brocklin and Shaw announced they were turning in their suits following the win over Green Bay. College football in Northern California was at a low ebb as the California Bears eked out two wins and the Stanford Indians went 0-for-10. Both schools deny de-emphasis and have announced strong recruiting programs for the future. Santa Clara University came back to the football wars on a small scale and the College of Pacific dropped from major to minor football. Carmel High won its fourth straight league title and jumped its unbeaten string to 33 games. The Monterey Peninsula College enjoyed an 8-2 season with losses to Sequoia and Hartnell as only blotches on its record. A new recruiting policy will be in effect for the junior colleges next season with all schools limited to preps who graduate from high schools near the college. The 1961 Lobo squad will have more of a Peninsula-look than in recent years. Prognostications for 1961: St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago White Sox in the Worlds Series; Patterson to retain his heavy-weight championship; Baltimore Colts to reign as pro football kings once more; Gene Littler to win the Crosby Pro-Am; and UCLA to succeed Washington as kingpin of the Big Five; but don't bet on it.

OUTSTANDING BASKETBALL PROGRAM AT CARMEL MISSION

One of the best intramural basketball programs on the Peninsula is getting an enthusiastic reception at the Carmel Mission School where over 90 boys are going through their paces under the watchful guidance of Jack Giles and Bobby Updike. While Giles and Updike lend adult supervision to the overall program, the actual team coaching is done by the eighth-grade boys who volunteer to help the fifth, sixth, and seventh-grade hoopers. With two courts to accommodate better than 90 players, the games have to be run off with expert precision which leaves very little chance for arguments or protested decisions. High caliber sportsmanship prevails in all the games with most of the adjudications being handled by the captains and student-coaches.

In the fifth and sixth-grade league, coach Bristol's crew of Parsons, Gelman, Domenici, Canavaro, Waters, and Chow has yet to taste defeat with Captain Parsons leading all scorers in this loop.

Captain George Thaler's unit leads the seventh and eighth-grade league with five wins and no losses but Captain Lang's runner-up squad has a 4-1 record and has been burning the net in all recent outings. Thaler's league-leading club is manned by Anzini, Beardsley, Thelen, Nichols, and Van Train.

Town House South Seas Program

The Carmel Foundation Town House audience on Wednesday afternoon will hear a talk on Polynesian Culture and Its Implications by Dr. Robert P. Parsons of Carmel. Dr. Parsons has traveled widely in the South Seas and his discussions on the people of this area have been received with interest by other Peninsula groups. The program begins at 3:00 o'clock and will close with tea. All interested persons are invited.

Bob Smith, to Paul Artellan, Maurice Grimshaw, Dave Machado and all the volunteers, fellow citizens (including Mayor Frank Putnam) who drill and train, and turnout for fires at any hour the siren blows. May it sound only on Thursday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.

Happy New Year to Mayor Putnam. May all his council meetings end at 11:00 o'clock; and to Councilman John Chitwood who disagrees with everything Councilman Gunnar Norberg says but fights for his right to say it; to Councilman Norberg, who'll say anything, and out of so many, maintains a high average of words of wisdom; to Councilman Eben Whittlesey, who disciplines a natural predilection for verbal self-expression, and he's a lawyer, too! To Councilman Francis Whitaker, dedicated to sticking to business and adjourning at 11:00 o'clock.

An especial Happy New Year to Councilman Whitaker in his capacity of street commissioner, because of the young pines planted all over town this fall and more to come. And to Street Superintendent Bill Askew, and all his men.

Happy New Year to the Forest Commission and the Art Commission and the beleaguered Planning Commission.

To City Engineer Clayton Neill, City Attorney John Morse, and City Treasurer, Sam Coleman.

And to the Mayor of Eighty Acres. May he put aside his earphones occasionally and speak up. We miss his voice. —Wilma Cook.

Carmel phylsylvans (those who tramp through the woods for pleasure) were worried last week when they got word from San Francisco conservationists that the national forest division is considering a change in the boundaries of the Ventana Primitive Area.

We phoned national forest headquarters in San Francisco and talked to Millard Barnum, assist-

Mrs. George C. Heikes, the former Miss Ruth Margaret Chapman of Carmel, demonstrates her ability to write Korean to Mrs. Kim Hae Ran, an instructor of Yonsei University in Seoul, where she has just completed an intensive 80-hour course in the language. Her husband, Mr. Heikes, is chief in the Mining Division of the International Cooperation Administration's economic and technical assistance mission in Korea. They formerly lived in Washington and New York. All American personnel in the mission are required to take the language training course and wives are encouraged to do so.

ant regional forester in charge of lands.

"We have been instructed to study boundaries and reclassify the primitive areas to wild areas," said Mr. Barnum. "Primitive area is an old classification that was abandoned 15 years ago. The reclassification process is now on. The San Rafael Primitive Area between San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara is under study. There will be a proposal of shift in boundaries and perhaps an increase in area. This will come up for hearing in the spring of 1961. There will be 90 days notice before the hearing.

"The Ventana Primitive Area will come up for hearing in the spring of 1962. There will be no change in boundaries but a possibility of enlarging them to take in more area."

Where else but in Carmel would you find such neighborly merchants? A young couple, on their honeymoon here three months ago, visited the Richardsons' Casual Shop, "just looking." A tartan skirt particularly pleased the bride but her husband couldn't afford it then. Day before Christmas he telephoned the shop from San Francisco. He wanted that skirt, or one like it, for his wife for Christmas. They were driving down to spend the Christmas holiday here, but wouldn't arrive until after store closing hours. Could they call at the Richardsons' home to pick it up? He could. He received directions on how to find it.

After a big day at the shop, the Richardsons' received the young couple in their home, attended to some minor alterations on the skirt, provided them with some Christmas cheer and saw them on their way.

This attended to, the Richardsons could get on with their own Christmas plans.

And there are a number of business people like that in Carmel.

Carmel Unified School District trustees, Tuesday afternoon, awarded the district's insurance to Carmel Association of Insurance Agents. This group, through P. A. McCreery, submitted the low bid of $4,094.44. Only other bid was $4,780.83 from H. William Monroe Insurance. This year is the first time the district insurance was open to bidding. The reduction in premiums over last year amounts to $265.94. Last year the cost of the district's insurance was $4,360.38.

MPC Announces Two Events Free To The Public

Monterey Peninsula College will present two events to the public, free of charge, during the first week of 1961.

Tuesday evening, at 8:30 o'clock in the library lecture hall, Major Joseph Ulatoski will present a lecture illustrated with colored slides, reviewing his recent duty as a military attache in Moscow, Russia.

Major Ulatoski traveled throughout the USSR and was able to photograph many areas of the country in which foreigners are not ordinarily permitted.

Friday evening, the Theater Arts Group film offering will be Miracle in Milan (Italy, 1952). Directed by Vittorio DeSica, the picture is a brilliant departure from the stark realism of Italy's postwar films. An enchanting story of a simple boy, it accents the positive ideal of human brotherhood. The showing will begin in the Armory at 8:00 p.m.

A little extra praise for Carmel's street department. This nippy morning one of their members, Fred Askew, rescued a woman driver on Santa Lucia Street. Her motor was chilly and she had coasted as far as she could. Along came Fred, hitched a chain from the city truck to her car. A tug, and the motor started. Fred checked, removed the chain, and waved goodbye.

One more obstruction was removed from Carmel streets and the woman driver was only a little late at the Pine Cone office on press day.

Roberta Mastin

A memorial service for Mrs. Roberta Mastin will be held tomorrow morning at 11:00 o'clock at Mission Mortuary. Inurnment will follow in El Carmelo Columbarium.

Mrs. Mastin was found dead on December 19 in her home on Santa Fe Street. She is survived by a son, Anthony Mastin of Sacramento, and a daughter, Mrs. Jan Beaudou of Princeton, New Jersey, who is in Carmel at present.

Friends wishing to honor the memory of Mrs. Mastin are asked to do so in the form of donations to the United Nations Children's Fund, New York City, New York.

Edith Thatcher

Mrs. Edith Thatcher, a Carmel resident for 20 years, died on Tuesday when her car went out of control and crashed into a house on Shattuck Avenue, Berkeley.

Berkeley police stated that Mrs. Thatcher apparently had a heart attack. She was returning from a visit with her son, Peter Thatcher, and her daughter Mrs. Emery Stone, both of Berkeley.

According to the police report, Mrs. Thatcher was driving down one of Berkeley's steepest hills on Marin Street when she seemed to slump at the wheel. Her car went through an intersection, then through a hedge and into the home of Professor and Mrs. Daniel Mazia, 900 Shattuck Avenue. Firemen later had to jack up the house to free the vehicle. Mrs. Thatcher was pronounced dead on arrival at Merrick Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Thatcher was born in Chicago on August 4, 1888. She came to live in Carmel 20 years ago and for ten years operated the Burlwood Shop on Ocean Avenue. Her home was on San Antonio Street south of Eighth Avenue.

She was a charter member of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society and active in Town House and Carmel Foundation affairs. She also belonged to the Garden Club and Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services. For the past five years, Mrs. Thatcher had devoted a day each week to the MPVS Thrift Shop.

In addition to her son and daughter, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Wendell Chapman of Laguna Beach; four grandchildren, Mrs. Douglas McHenry of Los Angeles and Stephen Andrew, Michael Peter and Robert Scott Thatcher, all of Berkeley.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove with Dr. Joseph M. Ewing, pastor of the Carmel Presbyterian Church, officiating.

Paul Mortuary is in charge of arrangements.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Libraries change with the times. The latest prediction as to library progress is that in the future some years away any person will be allowed to take all the books he wants from the library without charging them or any track being kept of them at all. He will return them whenever he is finished with them, no fines being levied and no questions asked. When that happy time comes, librarians will be free from care. They will never know whether their libraries have thousands of books available or only a few. As of now our library is still concerned mostly with books and periodicals, trying vainly to keep some track of them and get them around to all the various people who want to read them, and all the while hoping for a modicum of quiet in the reading rooms. We heard today of a library in a tough neighborhood which was forced to take down all signs reading "Silence" and substitute others reading "Shad up!" In a way, that's progress, too.

As for the new books, this week they are mostly better than average fiction. Recognized authors, anyway. Some of them are mysteries and of these two are worth noting. They are Margaret Millar's Stranger In My Grave, and the latest Rex Stout with our old friend Nero Wolfe, the title of which is Too Many Clients.

There is a collection of short stories by Joyce Cary which is entitled Spring Song. Included here are all of his finished stories written between 1945 and 1959. Another collection of short stories was reprinted from the New Yorker and so was called Stories from the New Yorker.

Reviews say that the new March Cost book is a delightful change from the crudities of much of today's writing. The title is The Interpreter. It tells the story of a girl of pre-Revolutionary days in Russia, who runs away from her past to become an interpreter in Stockholm. Eventually her past life catches up with her, she matures, and is able to grow up emotionally.

Lin Tai-Yi wrote The Lilacs Overgrow. It tells of a wealthy

Chinese family, forced to flee as the Communists take over the country. This is a strong book with many characters and a great sense of the power of life and its demands upon people.

You may have noticed our new practice of locking the Sixth Street door during certain hours. This is an effort to stem the tide of reference books slipping away, sometimes never to return.

From all of us to all of you, a Happy New Year, filled with reading.

NEED PRINTING?

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

New, earlier schedule for the DEL MONTE to San Francisco

Gets you back earlier, too!

Starting Wednesday, January 4, 1961, the Del Monte will leave earlier in the morning and arrive San Francisco at 9:55 a.m.—45 minutes earlier than at present.

Returning, it will leave San Francisco at 4:50 p.m. to get you back nearly an hour and a half earlier in the evening.

You'll still have almost 7 hours in the City if you're returning the same day. The Del Monte will serve more San Francisco Peninsula cities, too.*

You'll ride, as usual, in modern, air-conditioned Chair Cars with deep-cushion foam-rubber seats. Coffee and snack service available. Modern Parlor-Lounge Car, too.

We asked our Del Monte patrons

... if an earlier schedule for the Del Monte would be more acceptable than the present one. An overwhelming majority favored this new schedule. So here it is! We have plenty of tickets and seats for all.

Frankly, we are hopeful that this earlier schedule will attract many more passengers which are needed to help eliminate the Del Monte's large annual deficit, and thus permit us to keep this train in service for you.

HERE'S THE NEW SCHEDULE

Audience Cheers, Thoroughly Enjoys Daughter Of The Desert, Troupers New Production At First Theatre

The Troupers of the Gold Coast with their current production, A Daughter of the Desert, or Silvera's Revenge, again have their historic old theatre at Scott and Pacific in Monterey, full of laughing people. Set in Arizona of 1870, A Daughter of the Desert offers a dastardly villain, a charming heroine, and a stalwart hero, all concerned with a six-year old murder, a stolen deed to a mine, Indian warfare, and romance on the plains.

Directed by Al Olinger, the Troupers kept the audience bouncing from boos for the villain and offers of advice to the hero, to whooping laughter through four fast-paced acts.

Niniv Ibrahim in the roll of Silvera, a man without conscience or honor, brought forth roars of hearty dislike from the audience on his every appearance as he wove his web of murder, theft, and kidnapping about the heroine Ruth Arlington, played by Patricia Ramsey.

Miss Ramsey demonstrated her ability at one moment to be virtually prostrate with grief and despair, and the next to rise to unexcelled heights of womanly virtue and fortitude. She is beset by Silvera's villainy but rises to the occasion when she comes to the aid of Harold Morton, a railroad surveyor with a skeleton in the family closet.

In the absence of Peter Lang, Mr. Olinger stepped into the role of Harold Morton and kept the audience greatly amused as he presented them with a hero who was the epitome of all that a 19th Century hero could be expected to be.

In the role of Mrs. Mary Ogden, Madeleine Hicks displayed her wonderful sense of comedy as she waged a successful marital campaign against M. Samuel (call me Sammy) Hopkins, an eastern land speculator and connoisseur of custard pies; in which guise Jay McClelland made his successful debut as a trouper.

Laverne Seeman as White Bird, the Indian girl who holds the key to a secret, immediately won the approval of the audience for her funny, dead-pan delivery and stolid characterization.

Renita Blenn and Lester Darling in the characters of the romantically inclined Lucy Hopkins and Clarence Ogden add much in the way of humor to this delightful old vehicle.

Jack Kidwell has returned to the First Theatre in the roll of Sheriff Bill Jones. A Trouper of long standing, he is always a welcome addition to any cast because of his fine character portrayals. Appearing for the first time, Robert Adams in the role of Jim Parker, a "square" gambler with a trick or two up his sleeve, rounded out this finely cast show.

The Olio, directed by Patricia Ramsey, with Alex Olivetti at his best as master of ceremonies, was fast, fun-filled, and a fitting conclusion to the evening's entertainment. A song and dance number with special lyrics by Dee Olivetti was presented in gay-nineties style by Niniv Ibrahim and Alex Olivetti. This was followed by a pantomime, Trouble in the Cellar, in which the Troupers proceeded to spoof everything which is held dear in their presentation of melodrama as a serious, though almost extinct theatrical style. Frankie and Johnnie with Miss Ramsey as Frankie, and employing the talents of the entire cast; and the ever-popular In the Bushes at the Bottom of the Garden, which was presented for the 2,175th time, are only several of the numbers which are to be seen in the olio.

Rhoda Johnson, as always, costumed the production with colorful authenticity. Sets by Joyce and Al Olinger and lighting and sound effects by Kay Knudsen furnished the proper atmosphere for both show and olio.

Following their Christmas weekend holiday, the Troupers resume production on Friday, December 30, and play Friday and Saturday through January. A special performance has been scheduled for Sunday night, January 1.

The Ichthyologist Has A New Hobby, Orchid Raising

largest plant families," he said. "They grow almost everywhere—Scandinavia, Alaska, even Siberia. There are about 23 species in California. Lady slipper is of the orchid family. So is calypso. I have at least 104 kinds of orchids here, and I don't know how many hybrids.

"The way I got into orchid raising was this. I have some friends who have always recommended it as a fascinating side-line. Then Mrs. Bolin and I were making a freighter trip from Hong Kong to Sydney. We stayed five days en route on the Island of Anacoro where there were thirteen white men and no white women. Naturally my wife was presented with lots of orchids.

"Next we met a man in Sydney with a greenhouse full of orchids covering the walls and ceiling. He even had orchids on the outer walls of his house and hanging in the yard from the limbs of a frangipani tree.

"One thing and another like this kept calling my attention to the beauty of orchids, their variety, the challenge of growing them.

"When I came home from Thailand early this year, I had sent after me 63 orchid plants I had selected in various places. They arrived in Carmel after I had gone to the Stanford campus. I got a frantic phone call from Mrs. Bolin asking what she should do with 63 orchids that all looked dead.

"I told her to scrub them with soap and water and keep them moist. Luckily it turned out they weren't dead after all. That's the way they look before they're replanted.

"It's amazing the number of unlikely ways orchid plants grow. Many are epiphytic (having exposed roots growing above ground on a tree limb or other resting-place and taking moisture from the air). Some grow up. Some grow down. One variety sends a downward shoot which calls for a special kind of pot with a bottom opening.

"To grow in this climate a great variety, including tropical orchids, you need a climate-controlled greenhouse. Mine is gas-heated and can produce a cool temperature range for some plants of from 57 to 78 degrees and a warmer range from 63 to 92, all in less than ten feet of space with no walls between. Some of the temperature variation is determined by the height at which the plants are placed.

"Then there is an automatic humidifier which sprays a mist when the air dries out."

Amidst all this modern automation of Dr. Bolin's was a china pitcher full of water, out of which a wet string dangled. Below that was a little plant receiving a drop of water now and then from the end of the string, proving that there are certain simple things like the siphon, as automatic and useful as ever, which have never been replaced by more complicated gadgets.

"A friend of mine in Santa Cruz once hung an orchid plant on a coat hanger temporarily. He kept it moist but didn't get around to relocating it in a proper setting. It finally bloomed right there on the hanger. They thrive under all sorts of conditions," Dr. Bolin said.

Monterey Peninsula residents will be able to see how very popular orchid raising and orchidology are in this area next March. Dr. Bolin says, when the Monterey Bay Orchid Society holds a show at the Monterey County fairgrounds.

Exhibits will be prepared by many of the one hundred-plus members of the society, which meets monthly at Watsonville, and many local growers who are non-members but have good orchid collections.

Dr. Bolin, who has been 31 years with the marine station, has forsaken none of his better known activities for orchids, but merely added them to his already full schedule.

A specialist in deep sea life, "the stuff living more than half a mile down," he spent 1947 and '48 as a Guggenheim fellow working all over Europe from Denmark to Sweden to France and Monaco.

In 1957 and '58 he went as a Fulbright senior researcher to the University of Hong Kong and worked for a time in the museum at Sydney, Australia.

Among his other professional adventures has been spending four months aboard the Danish ship Galathea on its deep-sea expedition around the world in 1952.

This year he has been to Vietnam and Thailand, working the deeps in the Gulf of Thailand and the South China Sea, and at the Institute of Oceanography at Bangkok.

"There are many things I have no time for," Dr. Bolin says, "like golf. I prefer chess. I realize it doesn't require as much exercise, but I get my exercise, as a gardener and as a biologist, reaching for the equipment stored on the high shelves."

We left then, and Dr. Bolin turned back to fitting the glass panels onto the three-walled garden shelter beside the greenhouse.

It Makes Perfect Pictures Automatically—Indoors and Out!

New Micro-Eye

Works Anywhere

No Flashbulbs

Instant Pictures too!

A new kind of electric eye is the nerve center of this new Land Camera. It is small as a matchhead, yet almost as sensitive as a human eye. It can even "see" indoors at night.

Because of its radical design this new camera works automatically over the widest range of any electric eye camera—from brightest beaches to shadowy interiors.

Indoors at night your room lights are all that is necessary to make the picture, using the ultra-sensitive 3000 speed Polaroid Land film. The Polaroid wink-light fills in the shadows.

Every picture you make with this camera is ready to be enjoyed on the spot, just moments after you click the shutter. Isn't this the way you want to take pictures? Come in for a free demonstration.

Highlands Association Party

Carmel Highlands children, last night, were showered with candy after breaking four pinatas at the Highlands Association annual community Christmas party in the fire house. The pinata breaking took place following the potluck dinner in honor of the members of the Carmel Highlands Volunteer Fire Department directed by Fire Chief Seizo Kodani.

There was a pinata for each of four age groups, starting with children six years old and under, and progressing through three other stages of harder hitters and sturdier pinatas.

Mrs. Marion Douglas was in charge of the Highlands Association party preparations and arrangements. She was assisted by Mrs. Russell Williams who supervised the construction and filling of the pinatas. These were: a swan designed by Tasha Doner; a green snake by Mrs. Williams; a misanthropic head labeled "I hate children" by Melissa Lofton; and an owl by Romie Wythe. Each designer assembled a group of workers to construct and fill their creations.

Mrs. Randolph Holiday Visitor

Mrs. Irma Randolph, musician and voice teacher from Oakland, is spending the holidays here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Holyoake of Carmel Woods.

Rennels Off To Rose Bowl

Mr. and Mrs. John Rennels will leave tomorrow to spend the New Year holiday in Pasadena with friends. They will attend the Rose Bowl Game with Mrs. Rennels an enthusiastic supporter of the Minnesota team. She is a graduate of the University of Minnesota. They expect to be back in Carmel on Monday.

Antique Show Exhibitor

Mrs. Linden Leavitt of Pebble Beach will be one of the exhibitors in a show named Antiques in a Castle, to be sponsored by the Berkeley Women's City Club on January 26. The title was chosen to correspond with the Gothic-Romanesque architecture of the Berkeley clubhouse, designed by Julia Morgan who also designed Hearst Castle at San Simeon.

Dinner Honors Admiral Yeomans

The local Navy League is honoring Rear Admiral E. E. Yeomans, Superintendent of the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School, at a "Come Back Soon" dinner at Del Monte Lodge on January 7. Admiral Yeomans will leave the Peninsula shortly for his new station in Japan.

George Clemons is chairman for the event. Entertainment is being arranged by Joseph Fratessa and Ted Durein, Navy League president is Stanley Greeb. Navy League Council members from Carmel are former Mayor John Chitwood and former Councilman Allen Knight. City Clerk Larry Rose is an active Navy League member.

Tickets for next week's dinner may be obtained only from the Navy League office, 546 Hartnell Street, Monterey. All written requests must be accompanied by a check. A limited number of tickets is still available.

Swedish Smorgasbord Dinners

Among the Swedish dishes served at the Christmas smorgasbord given by Mr. and Mrs. George B. Turner were sill, kottbuller, lutefisk and ragbrod baked by Mrs. Reuben Johnson. Served from a holly cloth centered with a formal arrangement of Swedish candelabra and candles was a variety of smorgasbord foods. Other candle arrangements were used as room decorations for a festive atmosphere. Opening of gifts, filming and viewing movies of previous Christmases highlighted the evening.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Grover Arnold, Roger Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. Reuben Johnson, Kent and Roddy Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Johnson of Berkeley.

Christmas Day the group was entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Reuben Johnson at a turkey dinner with lutefisk, Swedish candelabra were again used in the table arrangement with candle arrangements throughout the rooms. A tree was decorated with ornaments collected from countries visited while the Johnsons were traveling in Europe.

Karl Jensen First Child

Lieutenant and Mrs. Donald Lavar Jensen became parents for the first time on December 23 when their daughter, Karl Ingrid, was born at Monterey Hospital.

Her parents have been here for a year and a half. Lieutenant Jensen is a line and science student at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School.

Karl's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Jensen of Redding and Mrs. Ruth H. Nielson of Eureka. Mrs. Jensen is visiting her son's family for a week. After she leaves, Mrs. Nielson will come to visit her son-in-law, daughter and little Karl.

AFA Print Show To Be Combined With Paintings

The print and watercolor show, announced for January 3 by the Monterey Peninsula Chapter of the American Federation of Arts, has been postponed. It will now take place concurrently with the AFA exhibit of paintings in the Monterey Peninsula College gallery from January 30 to February 6.

Prints, watercolors and paintings in the show will be from the collections of local residents. Enlarged facilities of the college gallery permit one large show instead of two smaller ones as originally planned.

Cotillion Participants

Julia Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Thomas, was one of the 32 white-clad young ladies presented Tuesday evening at the 1960 Debutante Cotillion at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

Donald Cubbison Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arch Butts Jr., was the Cotillion escort for debutante Candace Howard.

Visitor From India

Anders Field, who represents Englehard Industries Incorporated in India, visited Carmel friends this week. His headquarters are in Bombay. Mr. Field was accompanied to Carmel by his mother, Mrs. A. J. Field of Sunnyvale.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The effectiveness of reliance on God's power will be illustrated in Christian Science services this Sunday.

David's trust in God alone in his victory over Goliath is featured in one of the Scriptural accounts to be read. The Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" includes this passage from I Samuel (17:45): "Then said David to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with a sword, and with a spear, and with a shield; but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast defied."

This citation will be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God" (228:25-27).

The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy (6:4): "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord."

Shirley Johnson Married

Lieutenant and Mrs. Richard M. Harvey have returned from their honeymoon trip that included skiing at Timberline Lodge, Mount Hood, Oregon. They are living on Morse Drive. Mrs. Harvey is the former Shirley Frances Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Johnson of Carmel. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Harvey of Wellesley, Massachusetts, both of whom came West for their son's marriage.

The military wedding took place on December 17 at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon in the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School Chapel with Chaplain Hedges Capers officiating at the double ring ceremony. Bouquets of white stephanotis marked center aisle pews and decorated the altar. Because and The Lord's Prayer were sung while the guests assembled.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long-sleeved white satin gown with a chapel train. Seed pearl embroidery outlined the scoop neckline, extended down the front of the bodice and skirt and was repeated on a bustle draping in back. Seed pearls also trimmed the white satin headband which held her fingertip veil in place. White roses and stephanotis were mingled in her crescent bouquet.

Barbara Mortenson of Riverside, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the groom's sister, Deborah Harvey of Chicago, and two of the bride's former classmates at Stephens College, Missouri. The latter were Anne Hyman of Pacific Palisades and Eleanor Rice of San Francisco.

The attendants wore similar green satin tunic dresses with matching shoes. Satin of the same shade as the dresses was used in their head bows from which fell small veils. They carried arrangements of red carnations and holly.

Lieutenant Charles Robert Mandley was best man for the groom; ushers were Lieutenant Don L. Elliott, Lieutenant Leroy Hebbard and Lieutenant J.G. Patrick Ogren, all fellow students of the groom at the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School.

Mrs. Johnson attended her daughter's marriage in a blue brocade dress and banker's coat. Her shoes and accessories matched her ensemble and she pinned a white orchid to her clutch bag.

Mrs. Harvey, mother of the groom, was attired in a beige silk sheath dress, matching hat and accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the Copper Cup Room at the Postgraduate School. White carnations were used to decorate the buffet table and surround the four-tiered wedding cake.

For traveling, the bride changed to a beige knit suit and brown accessories.

She graduated from Sunset School, then Carmel High School with the Class of 1952. Since graduating from Stephens College, she has worked in the retailing field in San Francisco and Carmel.

Her husband is a graduate of the University of Mississippi. He is a Navy pilot now studying for his master's degree in electrical engineering at the Naval Postgraduate School. His tour of duty here will continue for another year and a half.

Out of town guests at the marriage included his aunt, Mrs. Joyce Harvey of Eureka Springs, Arkansas.

Walter Smith Christened

Walter Chedester Smith was christened on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in All Saints' Episcopal Church by the Reverend David Hill, rector. The baby was born on December 6 in Fresno and is the first child of Jeff and Connie Smith.

They brought young Walter to Carmel for his first Christmas. His stocking hung waiting to be filled by Santa Claus in front of the chimney of his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chedester. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smith of Rancho Aguajito.

Godparents at his christening the day after Christmas were Mr. and Mrs. John P. Murray (Pat Chedester) of Carmel. They are also his uncle and aunt. His great-grandmother, Mrs. Carl Broden, attended the ceremony, also his great-aunt, Mrs. Robert Aebersold, both of Carmel. The christening group also included Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Pahl of Fresno, Walter's paternal aunt and her husband, and his four grandparents.

Carmel Greets 1961

"The new year will be greeted in Carmel at small and large parties. Mr. and Mrs. John Short have again invited friends to await 1961 in their home. Mrs. Valentine Miller has asked friends to her home in Carmel Highlands and, at midnight, a miniature cannon will be fired to announce 1961.

After attending the New Year's Eve performance at the Circle Theater, a large group of Carmel couples will gather at the Rod Wilson's home for a no-host New Year celebration.

Fifty friends plan to be at the home of Mrs. Lucille Ray for a dancing party on New Year's Eve. She has given this party every year but one. That was last year when she was out of town.

On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. McGinnis will give their tenth Rose Bowl Television Party. Over 70 guests have been invited to their home to see the game on several television sets.

Mrs. McGinnis recalls that for their first television party on New Year's Day ten years ago, they rented a television set "to try it out." This year they are undertaking a similar experiment with a color set.

Bannermans First Time Parents Mr. and Mrs. James G. Bannerman have a daughter whom they have named Julia Ann. She was born on December 21 in the Peninsula Community Hospital with a birth weight of five pounds, 14 ounces. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Knowles of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. James C. Bannerman of Carmel.

Tim Cass Here With Bride

Tim and Uta Schlegel Cass, who were married this summer in Germany, were in Carmel this week for several days. Tim attended Sunset School before moving with his mother, Mrs. Robert Gibbon, to Philadelphia. After graduating from Yale University, he served in the Army in Germany for two years. During his Army duty abroad, he met Uta and returned to Germany this summer to marry her. This was her first visit to Carmel. Tim is now teaching a fifth grade class in a school in Los Angeles.

Treasures And Trinkets

A novel program is planned for the General Meeting of the All Saints' Episcopal Churchwomen on January 5, in the Parish Hall. Everyone attending is requested to bring a small personal possession of historical or significant value to be displayed and explained for all the members. Mrs. C. V. O. Terwilliger is in charge of the program.

The meeting will start with Holy Communion at 10:30 in the morning, followed by a business session, luncheon and the program. As it is the first meeting of the new year with important matters such as the budget, Mrs. Lloyd Armstrong, president, urges all Churchwomen to attend.

The Lydian Sewing Guild is in charge of the luncheon, for which reservations must be made. They may be made by phoning either Mrs. Harry Outcalt, MA 4-2376 or Mrs. Margaret Leachman, MA 4-1129.

Plamondon Tableaux In Museum

Mrs. Edythe Plamondon of Carmel has two of her miniature Christmas scenes on exhibit in the Charles W. Bowers Memorial Museum in Santa Ana. The tableaux serve as the nucleus of the annual Christmas exhibit at the museum, according to Merton E. Hinshaw, director.

Mrs. Plamondon's tableaux on exhibit are Bringing in the Yule Log and Christmas Carolers. Both won first place awards in Carmel Christmas decoration contests in previous years.

Colonel Gahl In Omaha

Colonel Ralph D. Gahl, son of Mrs. Ramona C. Gahl of Carmel, has been assigned for duty with the Joint Chiefs of Staff Liaison Group at Strategic Air Command Headquarters, Offutt AFB, Nebraska.

SAC, the global striking force of the USAF, centrally controls its far-flung air bases, located in both the United States and overseas, from the headquarters near Omaha.

Prior to his assignment to this headquarters, Colonel Gahl was assigned to Westover AFB, Massachusetts, Headquarters 8th Air Force, as Deputy Director of Personnel.

Colonel Gahl is credited with 18 years active duty and holds the aeronautical rating of Command Pilot. He has flown 11 combat missions and has logged 4840 total flying hours.

Pebble Beach New Year Events

Saturday night the annual New Year's Eve celebration will be held at Del Monte Lodge. New Year's Day there will be a buffet luncheon for Beach Club members and their guests. Cypress Point Golf Club will have a Rain Check Tournament on New Year's Eve followed by a barbecue luncheon for contestants, weather permitting. New Year's Day, Cypress Point members will attend a cocktail party at the club.

Christmas At Carmadon

Mrs. Grace C. Howden gave a buffet dinner party on Christmas Day at her home, Carmadon, in Carmel Woods.

A cosy, crackling fire burned on the hearth. Candlelight and lights on two small white Christmas trees brightened the room and were reflected in gleaming silver and the buffet table. A brightly burning plum pudding added another festive glow. After dinner gifts from Santa Claus were distributed.

Guests invited were Mrs. James Johnson, who was not well enough to attend, Dr. Arlene Schlott, Mrs. Lucille DeBey, Mrs. Margaret Miller, Mrs. Georgia Bamford, Nelo Drizari, Miss Mary Lindsay-Oliver, Miss Lin Fu Yang, Mr. and Mrs. Juan Alvarez, Mr and Mrs. F. W. Titus, Mrs. Shirley DeLeos and her six-year-old son Andre Rene, who played excerpts from the classics during the evening.

Morehouse Christmas Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morehouse had their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Nies, and their two grandchildren, Sandy eight, and Valerie, five, as their guests on Christmas Day. The Nies family lives in Columbia State Park. Mr. Nies is associated with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in that area.

Just before Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Lipp, Mrs. Morehouse's brother-in-law and sister, visited here. They have been living on Bahrain Island in the Persian Gulf and are now traveling about the United States looking for a location which pleases them. Mr. Lipp was recently decorated by Queen Elizabeth II for his service as liaison official between oil companies and the Persian government while on Bahrain. Mr. and Mrs. Lipp also served as official foreign host and hostess on Bahrain.

Perkins Here For Christmas

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Perkins of Manhattan Beach and their son, Sabin, came to Carmel to spend Christmas with Mrs. Perkins mother, Mrs. Virginia Carr, also her grandmother, Mrs. Marion Karr.

Rosners Carmel Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. George Cornelius Rosner of West Los Angeles arrived in Carmel on Christmas Eve to spend the holiday with their daughter, Sue, wife of Francis P. (Skip) Lloyd, and Skip's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd. Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Baylis and their two sons, Owen and Lloyd, from Menlo Park joined the group on Christmas Day. Lucinda Lloyd, home from the University of California at Davis, and Mardi Lloyd completed the family party.

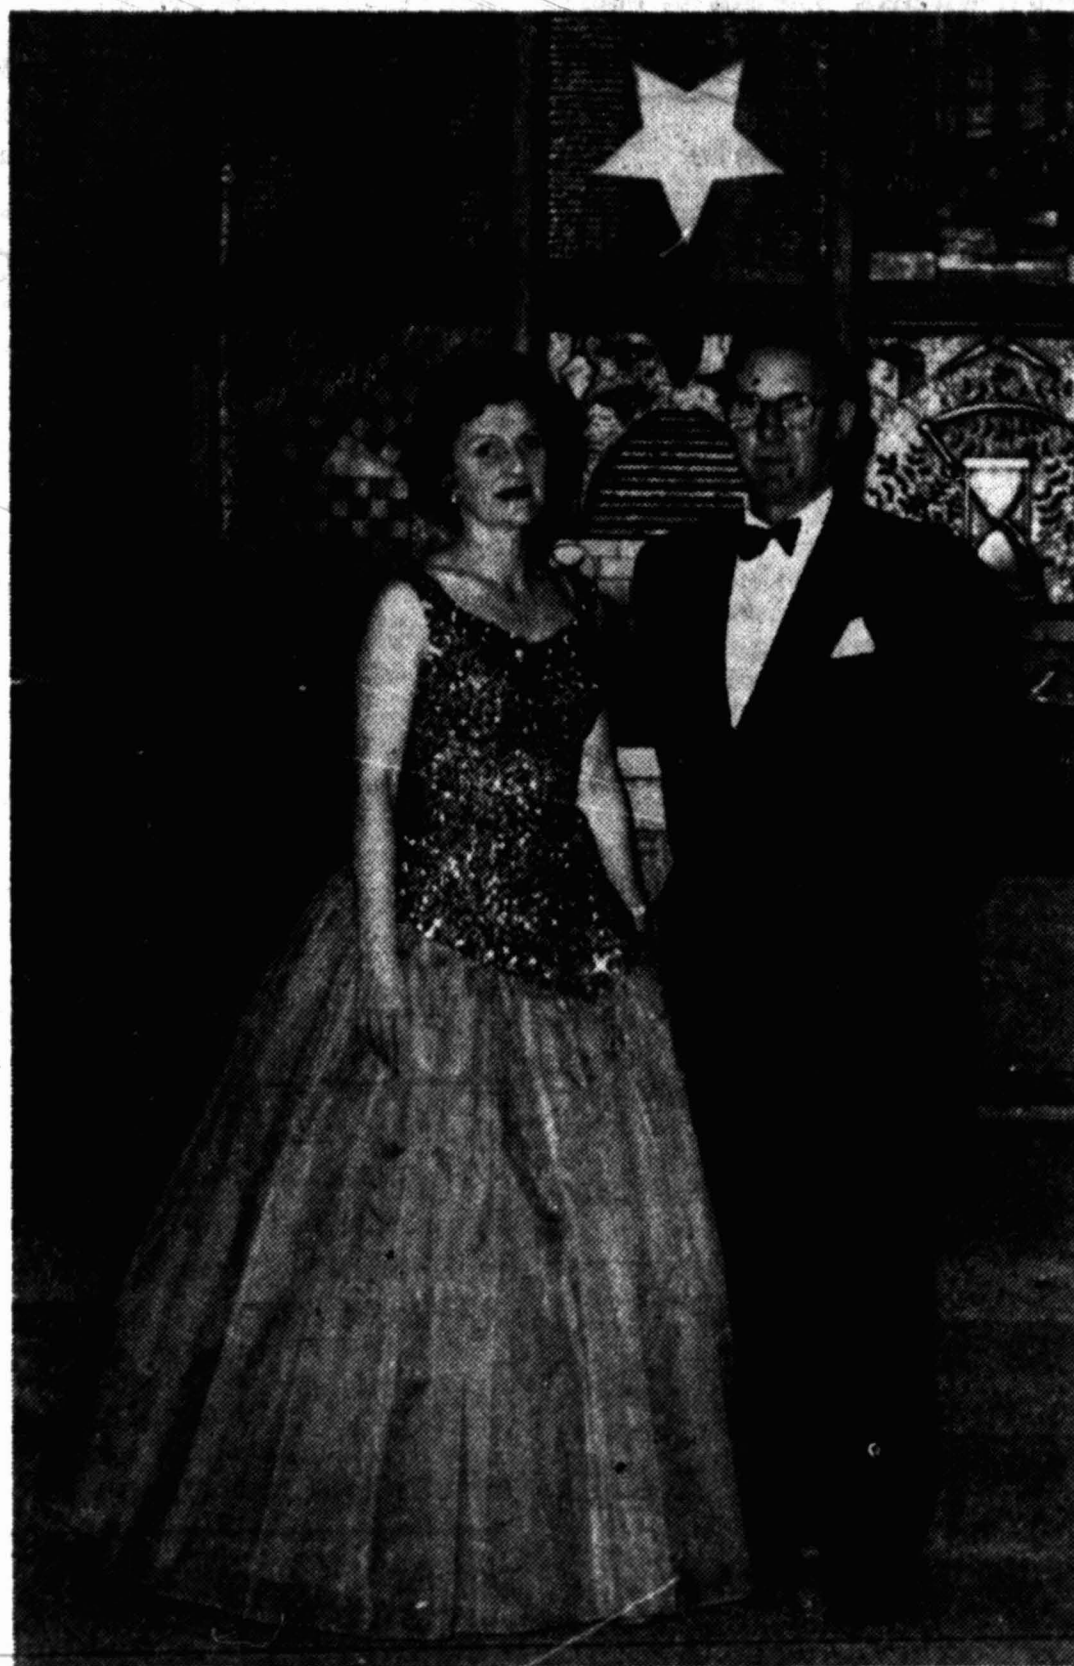

Diane Miller Skiing

Diane Miller and her father, Lloyd Miller, drove with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Puddeke to Norden on Friday. They will remain in the Sierra skiing until Friday. Diane will return to her freshman year studies at San Jose State College next week.

Back From Central America

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Ross arrived home in Carmel just before Christmas. They had been on a trip to Central America for six and a half weeks.

The Rosses traveled by ship from San Francisco through the Panama Canal to Cristobal, then took a train back to Panama. Next was a flight to San Salvador where Mrs. Ross' sister lives. Her husband, Donald P. Downs, is Deputy Chief of Mission at the American Embassy in San Salvador. The Rosses spent two weeks with the Downs then flew to Guatemala and visited Antigua and Lake Atitlan before going back to San Sal-

Letters..

Carmel, Calif.
December 20, 1960

Carmel Planning Commission
Carmel, California
Gentlemen:

I was approached by Mr. Wm. Newman, owner of Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4, Block 79, Carmel-by-the-Sea, bordering, in a triangular manner, Ocean Avenue, Mt. View, and Torres Street, all lots being R-1 (Residential) to support an application that he intends to make to you for certification to build apartment houses on the aforementioned lots.

I feel that any multiple dwelling situated in that area adjacent to such traffic arteries and narrow streets will be a disadvantage to the city from a hazard point of view.

I also feel that in case we break the barriers and allow by "spot zoning" the creation of multiple dwellings in the residential districts, we will have a chaotic condition in the city. I will be the first one to follow suit asking for a multiple dwelling privilege on my lots 80x135', located on the Northeast corner of Junipero and 8th Streets.

I am writing this letter to tell you in advance how I feel as a resident of Carmel, and I will support my stand with other good reasons which I have against such multiple dwellings in the peaceful residential districts.

A copy of this letter goes to the City Council.

Sincerely yours,
Victor S. Velissaratos

FILM OFFERED PENINSULA CLUBS

An educational and dramatic program is offered to all organizations on the Monterey Peninsula by the Monterey County Chapter of The National Foundation for the New March of Dimes, according to Leslie Dixon, chairman of the Education and Special Events Committee.

A 12-minute film, The Bridge Between, depicts the work accomplished by The National Foundation in research and rehabilitation, and reports on the expanded program encompassing polio, crippling diseases, arthritis and birth defects.

Further information is available by calling FRontier 3-2700.

MRS. WITHERELL INJURED

Mrs. Brayton Witherell suffered broken arms, a dislocated hip, broken ribs and facial cuts in an accident in Pebble Beach on Tuesday afternoon, according to her husband, executive secretary of the Monterey Peninsula Community Chest. She apparently had a slight stroke before the accident, he reports.

According to the California Highway Patrol report, Mrs. Witherell was driving east on Ronda Road when she lost control of her car, went off the roadway and hit three trees and a telephone pole at 3:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

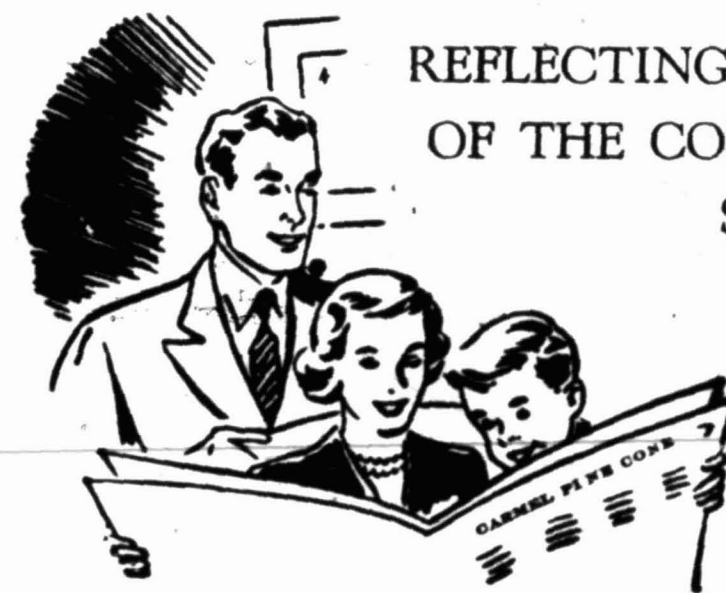

She was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital following the crash.

CARMEL HOME—We are certain you will not find a better buy than the home we are offering today. Construction is of the best materials, the location excellent, on an over-sized lot, completely fenced; has 3 bedrooms, one and half baths. Bedrooms are on the second floor, plenty of closet space; and a living room over thirty feet in length with a separate dining room. The garage, built under the house, on a level—not one of those hill-side affairs or sloping nuisances. Wall-to-wall carpets, in excellent condition, with neutral drapes. Refrigerator and stove are included in the price of $24,750. Terms if desired.

LOTS—Pebble Beach, Down the Coast, Carmel Valley, one in Carmel.

IF YOU ARE LOOKING FOR A HOME WITH A SCENIC VIEW, we have it, but do not forget such a HOME is in an upper bracket price. It has 3 bedrooms, 3 baths, plus a den, and it is on a lot that is over one acre. INTERESTED? Call Mr. Delaney.

Planners OK Guest House Over Protests

At the beginning of the hearing, Planning Commissioner E. P. Marcucci asked why guest houses had to be on use permit. He was in favor of repealing that section of the ordinance. "We have to grant the permit anyway, if the setbacks are right."

Ed DeMars, commission secretary, told him the commission has the power to deny. Starting next month the commission won't be bothered with applications for guest house permits. They would be the concern of the board of zoning adjustments. He explained that this section of the ordinance was passed on the request of the property owners in the unincorporated areas around Carmel in the hope of putting a stop to the use of guest houses as rental units.

Marcucci withdrew his proposal. Property owners who wrote letters of protest were: Donald D. Cox: "The possibility of either the main house or guest house becoming room-rental property in a one-family residence district would be opportune since Mrs. King has been renting sleeping rooms."

Mrs. John Chitwood, who owns the vacant lot adjacent to Mrs. King's property: "Since the other homes are built on large lots, another house on a small lot would not be compatible and would diminish the attractiveness of the neighborhood."

Sophie Kutschera: "The crowded appearance that would result would depreciate the value of the surrounding property."

R. J. Byington, A. S. Baran, R. Townsend offered similar objections in their letters.

Planning Commissioner Mrs. M. Gordon made the motion to grant the permit, seconded by Keith Evans. The motion contained the provision that the location of the guest house be approved by the staff, since one of the commissioners had earlier suggested it be set back further from the Cox property line.

The commission took the Coast Master Plan off the agenda since, as a continuing item, newspapers (not the Pine Cone) pick it up and publicize a public hearing on it at every planning commission meeting, and property owners make an unnecessary trip to Salinas. It will be put back on the agenda when the consultants have it ready for hearing.

An addition to Hans Ewoldsen's

Motel, Big Sur, was approved, as was Gordon Miyamoto's panhandle lot in Carmel Valley as building site; also approved, a California Water and Telephone Company water tank in the Rancho Mar Monte subdivision south of the Carmel Interchange on Highway 1.

Tickets Going Fast For Dinner Honoring Wermuth Retirement

In 1925 Earll joined the U. S. Marine Corps and served on the U. S. S. Idaho. During this duty he went with the ship on an Australian cruise. After this service, Earll sailed with the Merchant Marine for three and a half years. On July 2, 1930, he joined the Carmel police force as a deputy, making it a two-man department with one patrol car, Earll's Model A Ford. The other member of the force was Gus England, Carmel's first police chief. He patrolled town on a horse.

Earll has served under five police chiefs in all. He is not only the senior member of the Carmel Police Department but has served longer than any other policeman on the Peninsula.

He always worked night or early morning shifts in order to have the days free to take care of his invalid wife, Alma. She died a year ago. They had one son, Ray Wermuth. In April, Earll married Myra Tucker Mylar, a teacher at Woods School.

Praising Lieutenant Earll Wermuth, Police Chief Clyde Klauermann says, "I could always sleep nights when Earll was on duty."

The dinner honoring Lieutenant Wermuth is limited to 100 persons. A few tickets may still be obtained at the police station. The price is $4.50 including tax and tip.

EDWIN DECKER GIVEN RESUSCITATION

The Red Cross ambulance operated by members of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department answered a medical emergency call to Rancho Canada in Lower Carmel Valley yesterday evening at 5:08 o'clock. Firemen gave resuscitation treatment to Edwin Decker, Brookdale Road and Canada Way, until a Monterey ambulance arrived to transport him to the hospital.

Gala Masked Ball At Wharf Opera House On New Year's Eve

One of the highlights of the New Year's season will be the gala masque at the Wharf Theatre and Opera House. Many Carmel actors and singers are participating in the musical revue, Showtime '60 which will be on stage at the Opera House at 9:00 o'clock New Year's Eve. The party is open to the public and masquerade costumes are optional. Prizes will be given for the outstanding costumes, and there will be a champagne supper with dancing on stage following the New Year's revue.

Showtime '60 features a large cast of singers, dancers, and musicians including such well known performers as Ruth Warshawsky, Dee Olivetti, and Betty Fowlston. Hit numbers of the musical stage from 1906 to 1960 will be presented. The revels, which begin at 9:00 will continue until 2:00 in the first morning of 1961.

Failure Of State To Inspect Costs School $2,000

(Continued from Page One) school building approval procedure. Carmel school district contends that the SDIS should have called to inspect plans before the boilers were installed not after they had been in use for several years.

As a result of yesterday's meeting, State Division of Industrial Safety rules and regulations were clarified. The district now understands what this body demands, according to Mr. Greenfield.

Because the SDIS safety law governing the installation of added controls is retroactive, the district must conform, and work on the boilers will be undertaken as soon as possible, he added.

The conference also established procedure whereby the SDIS will approve all plans and specifications in future before they go to bids. Mr. Greenfield said yesterday afternoon.
